SHOJO MANGA: GIRL POWER!

MARCH 13—APRIL 26, 2006

Shojo Manga: Girl Power!

March 13—April 26, 2006

Receptions

NAEA Convention Reception, March 24, 5—8 pm

College-Wide Reception, March 28, 5—7 pm

Both receptions feature lectures by Curator Masami Toku and a Shojo Manga artist at 5:30 pm.

Shojo Manga! Girl Power! is an internationally touring exhibition. The show includes more than 200 artworks from 23 artists who have contributed to the development of modern Shojo Manga (girl comics) in Japan since World War II. The medium reflects the evolution of the social roles of Japanese girls and women during this period. The exhibition also documents how the visual composition of manga mirrors the developments in Japanese aesthetics.

Shojo Manga! Girl Power! is curated by Dr. Masami Toku, Associate Professor of Art and Art History at California State University Chico.

C33 Space is a gallery and a space for students to gather and have events which have no technical needs. There is no sound system, but there is a podium with a microphone. There is no food service. As the student population grows, so do requests from students for places to congregate, exhibit and perform. We reserve the common areas under [C] Spaces primarily for students. We request that those requiring meeting space try to utilize classrooms and other facilities for their meetings.

About [C]Spaces

The [C]Spaces are common areas where students can interact, relax, and socialize with fellow students. [C]Spaces plan and promote nearly three dozen gallery exhibitions each year, as well as fiction and poetry readings, film and video screenings, music, theater and dance performances, most of which showcase student work to the public.
